

Real Estate

Donors often can contribute real estate - vacant land, or property that includes structures - for which they have no further use. In addition to providing tax benefit, gifting land can help to preserve a donor's liquid assets while maximizing his or her charitable giving.

Central Oklahoma Habitat will work with potential donors of this kind of asset to determine if Habitat homes could be built on the property, or if it could be sold to raise funds for Habitat construction.

Please contact us at (405) 232-4828 to discuss real estate opportunities.